

MIDCELLI

The Midcelli proprietary elastomeric mesh back was created with comfort, airflow, and individualized sacral and lumbar reinforcements in mind, giving you just the right amount of support in both the lower back and upper back regions. The Midcelli adheres to function over form, encouraging and promoting a healthier posture and freedom of movement. Combining this unique patented mesh, mid-back design with BodyBilt's unique lumbar support and ergonomically contoured seats create an unequaled experience for your home or office environment.
